SUBJECT: USG WORKSHOP FOR MILITARY JUDGES PROMOTES PROSECUTING AND ADJUDICATING TERRORISM FINANCING CASES

SENSITIVE BUT UNCLASSIFIED. NOT FOR INTERNET DISTRIBUTION.

11. (U) The U.S. Department of Justice's Office of Overseas Prosecutorial Development and Training (OPDAT) and U.S. Treasury's Office of Technical Assistance (OTA) recently delivered two, two-day workshops in Amman on "Prosecuting and Adjudicating Terrorism Finance Cases" to 38 Jordanian State Security Court judges. The August 10-13, 2009, pair of workshops was conducted under the support of the Jordan Armed Forces Military Judiciary Directorate and funded by OPDAT and OTA.

12. (U) The workshops were designed to provide Jordanian judges with insight into the complexities of investigating and prosecuting terrorism finance cases to improve the adjudication of criminal charges in light of Jordan's Law No. 55 of 2006, the Anti Terrorism Law.

13. (U) The seminar agenda included presentations on:

- Benefits of Anti-Terrorism Finance Laws
- Jordan's Anti-Terrorism Finance Regime Structure and Legal Framework
- Introduction to Terrorism Financing Concepts, Methods and Trends
- U.S. Experience in Terrorism Financing Prosecutions
- Terrorism Financing Investigations
- Conducting Terrorism Financing Interviews
- Task Force Development
- Safeguarding Charities
- Foreign Requests for Judicial Assistance
- Round Table Discussion on Jordan's State Security Court and the prosecution and adjudication of terrorism financing case.

14. (U) The OPDAT Regional Legal Advisor - Abu Dhabi and the OTA Resident Economic Crimes Advisor - Amman were joined by Assistant U.S. Attorneys from Washington and Florida, the Legatt - Amman, and a U.S. District Judge from the District of Nevada in presenting the workshops.

¶6. (U) Military Judiciary Judges from the State Security Court (SSC) comprised the 38 participants. Participants particularly appreciated the inclusion of sitting U.S. jurists, prosecutors, and investigators who have had experience in the topic of terrorist financing as presenters in the workshops.

¶7. (SBU) Although Article 3 of Law No. 55 of 2006 criminalizes giving, raising, or managing funds, directly or indirectly, to be used in committing a terrorist act, the consensus of the attendees was that several changes to current Jordanian legislation are necessary to effectively investigate and prosecute the financing of terrorist groups or organizations.

¶8. (SBU) In the May 2009 plenary session of the Middle East and North Africa Financial Action Task Force (MENAFATF), a mutual evaluation report of Jordan's compliance with the 40+9 recommendations of the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) revealed that Jordan is only partially compliant with Special Recommendation II - Criminalization of Terrorist Financing. Based on this finding and assessment of commentary in these workshops, post will work with the GOJ to draft and affect new legislation which meets this important international standard.

¶9. (U) The Department of Justice's OPDAT Regional Legal Advisor - Abu Dhabi cleared this message.
